

General License Agreement for the usage of De Gruyter databases, eBooks and eJournals

Between

Walter de Gruyter GmbH
Genthiner Str. 13, 10785 Berlin

- hereinafter referred to as "De Gruyter" –

and

Lithuanian Research Library Consortium
 Sauletekio Ave. 14
 LT-10223 Vilnius, Lithuania

- hereinafter referred to as "Licensee" –

Preamble

De Gruyter offers the use of its own databases and eJournal contents on the basis of a time-limited option and/or perpetual option. In principle, the use of De Gruyter eBooks is offered on a perpetual basis. This license agreement regulates the rights and duties from De Gruyter as well as the Licensee for the use of databases as well as eJournals and eBooks.

In light of the foregoing, the parties agree to the following:

1. Key definitions:

Time-limited option: By paying an annual fee (hereinafter referred to as annual license fee), the Licensee can use the content of a database / an eJournal package for 12 months. After a specific number of years defined in the respective appendix of continuous payment of the, at that time, current annual license fee the Licensee acquires the right of perpetual access to the then published basic database content of such databases which are also offered in a perpetual option and/or the eJournal respectively. If it is a completed database or eJournal, no further payments are charged. For regularly expanded or updated databases the Licensee must then pay the, at that time, current annual update fee to access these versions. Renewal to be agreed by parties in advance in writing. Upon discontinuation prior to the specific number of years defined in the respective appendix of continuous payment of the, at that time, current annual license fee, the right to use the database expires at the end of the period of validity.

Perpetual option: With a single payment (hereinafter referred to as perpetual license fee) the Licensee acquires a license for an unlimited period of time to the basic content of a database available at the date of payment and/or the eJournal respectively. If the content of the database is complete at the time of payment, no further payments are charged. If the content of a database is regularly updated or expanded, the Licensee has to pay the, at that time, current annual update fee to access these versions. With payment of the update fee the Licensee acquires a license for an unlimited period of time to the then currently available updated or expanded basic database content. The annual update fee is to be agreed by parties in writing charged starting from January 1st of the year following the payment of the perpetual license fee. The client can cancel future automatic updates in writing at the latest until November 1 of a year.

eBooks: With payment of a one-time price the Licensee acquires a perpetual license for the eBook(s).

Basic database content: The content available of a database at a specific point of time.

Authorized Users: Authorized users are users of the Licensee which have a valid user authorization and whose permanent residence is in the country where the Licensee is located. Authorized users can only be natural persons. The Licensee is obliged to control the user authorization annually, here the authorized users must present their user authorization in person.

2. Subject Matter of the Agreement

- 2.1 This agreement regulates the perpetual and time-limited access to the basic database content as well as the licensing of eJournal content and eBooks from De Gruyter for the Licensee (hereinafter referred to as service).
- 2.2 The agreed terms of a service (time-limited or perpetual licenses, date, annual/perpetual license fee for eJournals or eBooks, number of years until entitlement to perpetual access, update regulations) are documented in an Appendix to this General License Agreement. An Appendix will be part of this General License Agreement when it is issued by De Gruyter and accepted by the Licensee as a part of this General License Agreement. In case of contradiction between the Agreement and Appendixes, Appendix 5 (The Tender) shall prevail.
- 2.3 De Gruyter grants the Licensee the non-exclusive, non-transferable right which may not be sub-let to access the services in accordance with this Agreement and the regulations in the respective Appendix and to enable access and allow the use for the Authorized Users. Access and use for the respective platform from De Gruyter have to be via an independent network or a virtual network via the internet which only allows access to the Authorized Users who are checked and supervised by the Licensee.
- 2.4 De Gruyter enables access for the Licensee to its services on a platform from De Gruyter. In case of a perpetual license for a service, access is granted for an unlimited period of time to the basic content available at the date of payment. In case of time-limited licensing the access is restricted to 12 months and prolonged for additional 12 months after payment of the, at that time, current annual license fee.
- Access via a time-limited license is granted for an unlimited period of time once the number of years of continuous payment of the, at that time, current annual license fee as defined in the respective Appendix has been reached.
- 2.5 Access is provided to the Licensee for an unlimited number of concurrent users.
- 2.6 De Gruyter does not recognise any of the Licensee's general terms and conditions which deviate from or extend these license conditions unless De Gruyter has agreed in writing that they should apply.

3. Payment

- 3.1 The rights of use and access are granted on condition that payments due are met.
- 3.2 The specifics about the update or annual license fee for updated or expanded databases are defined in the respective Appendix. The amount of the update or annual license fee is based on the amount of additional content added to a database within a year and is defined on average one year in advance.
- 3.3 Absent an agreement by the parties to the contrary, all payments are due no later than 60 days following the invoice date. De Gruyter shall issue only an electronic invoice to the Licensee. De Gruyter may use any means of an electronic invoice if it is in line with the European standard on electronic invoicing as prescribed by the Commission implementing decision (EU) 2017/1870 of 16 October 2017 on the publication of the reference of the European standard on electronic invoicing and the list of its syntaxes pursuant to Directive 2014/55/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council.
- 3.4 The costs of hardware, software, telecommunication, etc. incurring in conjunction with the access are to be paid by the Licensee alone.
- 3.5 The Licensee can only set off such counter-claims or retentions as have been established by the courts or are uncontested.
- 3.6 No later than by 10 December 2025 De Gruyter shall issue to the LMBA the first invoice in the amount indicated in Item 3, Appendix 5 (THE TENDER) as payable for the year 2026. If De Gruyter fails to issue the invoice to LMBA at a fixed date, it shall be considered that De Gruyter has refused to provide the service and therefore he shall lose his right to receive the payment and the Agreement shall be considered as terminated. In such case

De Gruyter shall lose his right to the reimbursement of any losses.

4. Rights of use, Access rights

- 4.1 The contracting parties agree that the services are copyright-protected in De Gruyter's favour. This applies both to the platform/database, the works in the database and to the copyright-protected works contained therein and to any other protectable elements. For this, use and access are only allowed to the extent expressly permitted by this General License Agreement.
- 4.2 Access rights only apply to the Licensee's IP addresses registered with De Gruyter. Furthermore access rights can be obtained for additional authentication processes (e.g. Shibboleth) agreed upon by De Gruyter with the Licensee. Access rights apply to the Authorized of the Licensee within a LAN (Local Access Network). Access for multiple sites (Multi Site Access) has to be agreed upon with De Gruyter and stated in the respective Appendix.
- 4.3 Walk-in library users are granted access to the services via computer work-stations within the Licensee's physical premises. All other Authorized Users are allowed to use the services via computer work-stations within the Licensee's physical premises or – if the Licensee allows this provision – through remote access via the Licensee's secure network. Beyond this, the Licensee is not permitted to reproduce the services or to make it available to the public.
- 4.4 Authorized Users are allowed access to the services for their private use or for purposes of research, to view it and search it and to make individual print-outs or electronic copies of individual articles or chapters which do not constitute more than a small proportion of a service.
- 4.5 The Licensee may generate temporary local copies of the services which are produced for a limited time as an integral and substantive part of a technological process (caching), the sole purpose of which is to allow Authorized Users use in accordance with the contractual conditions and which do not possess any independent economic value.
- 4.6 The Licensee and the Authorized Users may use appropriate parts of the services to produce printed teaching materials for use by the Authorized Users within the Licensee's Authorized Sites; these materials are not permitted to be used for re-sale or any other commercial purpose.
- 4.7 The Licensee and the Authorized Users are not permitted to use or exploit the services in whole or in part by sale to third parties, rent, lease, loan or any other means for commercial or trade purposes.
- 4.8 The Licensee is not permitted to be a commercial party to paid documentation services and to make the service available in whole or in part for this purpose. In exception to this, however, the Licensee is allowed to respond to a request by another library to generate a print-out of part of the service (e.g. an eJournal article or an eBook chapter) and to despatch this via non-commercial inter-library loan services. This only applies to paper print-outs; electronic copies may not be made. The use of the "Ariel Interlibrary Loan Software" for the transmission of a small proportion of the service to a printer/fax of another library is allowed, a transmission to e-mail addresses is not permitted. The transmission of whole eBooks via non-commercial inter-library loan services is not allowed.
- 4.9 The Licensee and the Authorized Users are not allowed to make parts of the services available in other networks outside the Licensee's secure network, for example on the internet or the World Wide Web.
- 4.10 The Licensee and the Authorized Users are not permitted to deploy robots, spiders, crawlers or other automated download programs or other aids to search, index or download the services continuously and automatically (e.g. systematic download, deployment of retrieval software).
- 4.11 The Licensee and the Authorized Users may not process, operate on or in any other way alter the services unless this is necessary for the content to be used in accordance with this General License Agreement.
- 4.12 The contents are only made available via the respective platform from De Gruyter.
For licensed eBooks on De Gruyter's online platform the Licensee has archive rights (in addition to access rights via internet according to art. 2.3 and 2.4) on their own platform for the use of the content by Authorized Users. PDFs of the licensed eBooks will be provided to the Licensee on request. Any contents thus made available on the Licensee are subject to these present conditions for access via the online platform from De Gruyter.

- 4.13 Within the scope of De Gruyter's current corporate principles, the Licensee is also granted access to the contents of previous volumes of an eJournal or what is known as a Yearbook published before the volume currently subscribed and which have never been actively ordered or received. This only applies if these previous volumes are available on the platform and at a maximum back to the volumes of the year 1995. This access is provided on an ex gratia basis. If the current volume is no longer being subscribed to, the access to the contents described in sentence 1 is also terminated. The Licensee's rights of use laid down by legal provisions remain unaffected by the foregoing restrictions (art. 4)
- 4.14 De Gruyter reserves the right to withdraw individual products or parts of its services if De Gruyter no longer owns the requisite rights or if there is reasonable cause to suspect that individual products or parts of the services offend the rights of third parties or are illegal in any other way – for example are defamatory or obscene.
- 4.15 Authors' names, copyright notices, references to registered marks (esp. brands and company names), logos, other references serving identification or relevant to copyright purposes, together with liability exclusions, legal reservations etc. may not be removed, altered or suppressed.
- 4.16 The Licensee must in writing or on-line inform in due form the Authorized Users of these license conditions and oblige the Authorized Users to observe them. Furthermore the Licensee is required to make all appropriate efforts to ensure that
- only Authorized Users are granted access to the services;
 - the Authorized Users are appropriately informed of the importance of observing the copyright and other rights attached to the services;
 - the Conditions of this License are adhered to.

5 Availability, Maintenance, Technical Requirements, Security Measures

- 5.1 De Gruyter grants the Licensee access to the services via the internet. De Gruyter will make appropriate efforts to ensure that its servers maintain sufficient capacity and bandwidth to guarantee availability for the Licensee and the Authorized Users at a level comparable to that of the availability of information services of a comparable type and size via the internet. De Gruyter's responsibility for providing and transmitting data ends however at the point where De Gruyter's servers are linked to the internet ("handover point").
- 5.2 Maintenance and servicing work can lead to temporary restrictions in the availability of the services. De Gruyter will carry out the required work as speedily and smoothly as possible.
- 5.3 The Licensee bears sole responsibility for their connection to the internet and the maintenance of such connection and for the requisite hardware and software for communicating with the servers from De Gruyter together with any additional telecommunication equipment. The Licensee has to provide adequate state-of-the-art protection from viruses and unauthorised access for their deployed systems.
- 5.4 If there are grounds to suspect that third parties have made unauthorised use of provided access data, the Licensee is obliged to report this to De Gruyter without delay. The Licensee is liable for any misuse of their access data for which they are responsible. Provided no blame is attached to De Gruyter, De Gruyter is not liable for any damage caused to the Licensee by misuse or loss of their access data (especially IP address or username/password).
- 5.5 The Licensee is obliged to take all appropriate and suitable technical and legal steps to prevent use in contravention of the agreement or in excess of the rights granted, misuse and other disruptions. The Licensee is in addition obliged to inform De Gruyter without delay and in detail of all such incidents and to furnish De Gruyter with all the data and documentation relevant to the analysis and removal of such incidents. In each case of infringement of the provisions of this contract, the Licensee undertakes to cooperate with De Gruyter to immediately stop the contractual infringement.

- 5.6 To establish whether illicit use or misuse has occurred, De Gruyter is entitled to monitor access to the services and use of the platform.
- 5.7 If De Gruyter receives knowledge of illicit use or misuse of the Licensee's access data, or if there are objective grounds for fearing such an illicit use or misuse, De Gruyter will inform the Licensee without delay and set a time-limit for cessation. As a preventive measure De Gruyter is entitled to block access (for the Licensee as a whole or for individual IP addresses) until the suspicion of illicit use or misuse has been removed.
- 5.8 The Licensee is obliged to compensate De Gruyter for all damage caused by illicit or careless use by Authorised Users or by third parties which gain unauthorised access to the services via the Licensee's network and which the Licensee could have prevented by fulfilling their obligations under art. 5.5.

6 Disruption of Service, Guarantee

- 6.1 Disruptions to the availability of the service do not entitle the Licensee to terminate the agreement or claim compensation for damage or expense caused thereby if the disruptions are of a short temporary nature. Only if the disruptions exceed a tolerable extent to a considerable degree the Licensee is entitled to give extraordinary notice to terminate the agreement under art. 10.1. – after expiry of a reasonable time-limit for the disruption to be removed set by the Licensee in writing. In this case, art. 7 applies for possible claims for compensation for damage or the reimbursement of expenses; all further rights are excluded.
- 6.2 The Licensee is obliged to report any substantive or legal defects to De Gruyter in writing without delay, to give an exact description of any such defect and to provide all information and documentation required to remedy the defect. Any complaints related to any difficulties with access to the database resulting from the Contractor's fault shall be handled immediately after notification by the Ordering Party, but no later than within 48 hours. The Licensee is not entitled to require that unsubstantial substantive or legal defects be remedied.
- 6.3 The period of limitation for substantive and legal defects is one year beginning from the transfer/licensing of the service to the Licensee. However, this does not apply to warranty claims for defects by consumers or claims for damages resulting from injuries to life, body or health and/or claims for damages resulting from gross negligence or intent caused by De Gruyter. For consumers, the statutory regulations governing limitation apply.
- 6.4 Representations in marketing materials, service descriptions etc. do not constitute any guarantee. A guarantee is only given after explicit written confirmation by De Gruyter.
- 6.5 In the event of non-performance or improper performance of the contract, the Licensee has the right to charge the following contractual penalties:
- a) for delayed set-up of access to the subject of the contract: in the proportion of 1/365 of the gross price paid by the Licensee for the service for each started day of delay.
 - b) for interruptions in access to the service caused by reasons attributable to De Gruyter: in the proportion of 1/365 of the gross price paid by the Licensee for service, for each day of unavailability of the service, subject to notification of De Gruyter by the Licensee about the lack of access to the service within 1 hour from finding the lack of access and granting De Gruyter 48 hours for removing disruptions in access.
- The number of days when the service is unavailable will be determined jointly by administrators of the Licensee and De Gruyter.

7 Liabilities

- 7.1 De Gruyter is only liable for compensation – regardless of the legal reason, especially as a result of failure to fulfil its obligations, of actions not permitted, of delay -
- (a) to the full extent in cases of intent and gross negligence on the part of De Gruyter, its representatives or agents;
 - (b) for typical and foreseeable damage in cases of simple negligence, if an essential obligation (known as a cardinal obligation) has been breached;

(c) to the full extent in the case of breach of guarantee.

De Gruyter bears no other liability. In the sense of art. 7.1, cardinal obligations are all obligations the breach of which endangers performance of the purpose of the agreement, together with all obligations the fulfilment of which allows the contract to be performed and on the fulfilment of which the Licensee can regularly depend. The provisions above do not involve a shift in the burden of proof to the Licensee's disadvantage.

- 7.2 De Gruyter's liability for personal damage (injury to life, body, health) and its liability under the (German) Product Liability Law remain unaffected.
- 7.3 To the extent that De Gruyter's liability is excluded or limited, this also applies for the personal liability of De Gruyter's organs, representatives or agents.
- 7.4 De Gruyter will exercise the normal care and diligence customary for its field of activity to compile, process and present the contents made available via the respective platform in line with the current state of knowledge. Despite due care being exercised in collecting, processing, checking and correcting contents, errors cannot be excluded. As far as is compatible with product liability legislation, in particular with the (German) Product Liability Law, De Gruyter therefore assumes no guarantee or liability for the substantive accuracy or completeness of the contents and for damage incurred by the Licensee or the Authorised Users as a direct or indirect result of using the contents (in whole or in part) – except in the case of intent.
- 7.5 De Gruyter is not responsible for technical problems (e.g. line disruptions, power cuts and other problems in the internet and telecommunications infrastructures) or for other circumstances (e.g. war, strike, floods, restrictions imposed by the state) beyond De Gruyter's control.
- 7.6 Insofar as the Licensee is responsible for defects in the licensed databases, eJournal contents and eBooks (e.g. errors in content, sense or typography when sending copies) they release De Gruyter from all guarantee and compensation claims which third parties – especially users – might bring against De Gruyter.

8. Assignment / Transfer

- 8.1 The Licensee is not entitled to assign or transfer to third parties any rights or claims arising from this general license agreement without the prior, expressly written consent of De Gruyter. The Licensee is not entitled to pledge the transfer or license.
- 8.2 De Gruyter is entitled to assign or transfer to third parties any and all claims or rights arising from this general license agreement after obtaining written consent of the Licensee.

9. Relationship between the Parties

- 9.1 This Agreement and all of its Appendixes do not create any partnership, joint venture, and/or any similar relationship between the parties.
- 9.2 Furthermore, this Agreement and all of its Appendixes do not create any kind of agency relationship between the parties and/or any authorizations/powers of attorney in favour of the respective other party.

10. Miscellaneous Provisions

- 10.1 Either party's right to terminate the agreement for important cause remains unaffected. De Gruyter can in particular terminate the agreement if illicit use has been made or if the rights granted by these conditions have been exceeded. Termination for important cause assumes that adequate time has been given in writing for the cause to be remedied without remedy having been effected within that time.
- 10.2 De Gruyter processes the Licensee's data electronically. For this, legal data protection regulations will be observed.
- 10.3 The use of the services can involve the placing of cookies to check that access is authorised and to ensure smooth running of the service. If settings in the browser software used by the Licensee or Authorised Users do not permit the use of cookies, registration and use of the service may not be possible or may be subjected to severe restrictions. In such cases, De Gruyter gives no guarantee.

- 10.4 The licensed services contain links to third-party websites. De Gruyter cannot constantly check these sites or influence their contents. De Gruyter does not assume responsibility for these sites or for their technical quality or the quality of their contents.
- 10.5 The Licensee may terminate this Agreement: due to a material or persistent breach (such as unauthorized suspension or termination of access to the licensed materials, or substantial changes to the licensed product that fundamentally affect its content or usability) by De Gruyter; or if the License was awarded to De Gruyter in view of a serious infringement of the obligations under the Treaties and Directive 2014/24/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 26 February 2014 on public procurement and repealing Directive 2004/18/EC that has been declared by the Court of Justice of the European Union in a procedure pursuant to Article 258 TFEU (Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union); or if the Agreement has been subject to a substantial modification; or if De Gruyter should have been excluded during the procurement procedure; or if De Gruyter does not submit an invoice according to the Agreement; or if the international sanctions are applied to De Gruyter according to the Law on International Sanctions of the Republic of Lithuania. Upon termination of this Agreement according to this clause, De Gruyter shall reimburse to the Licensee a pro rata proportion of the then remaining paid Fee for the unexpired period of this Agreement.

11. Concluding Conditions

- 11.1 This Agreement is subject to the law of the Federal Republic of Germany, with the exception of the United Nations Convention on contracts for the International Sale of Goods and the Law on Public Procurement of the Republic of Lithuania.
- 11.2 If the client is a businessperson, a corporate body under public law, constitutes special assets governed by public law or is without domestic legal domicile, the exclusive competent court of jurisdiction for all disputes arising out of or in connection with these license conditions is Berlin.
- 11.3 Modifications and supplementations to this contract must be made in writing. The same applies to the contracting away of this written-form clause. The parties acknowledge that any amendments to this Agreement shall be subject to the requirements set forth in Article 89 of the Law on Public Procurement of the Republic of Lithuania.
- 11.4 The rights and duties arising from this agreement are also binding for legal successors of any of the parties.
- 11.5 Should individual provisions of these conditions or of the license agreement be or become null or void or if there is an omission in the agreement, the validity of the remaining provisions remains unaffected. Instead of the null or void provision, that effective provision is regarded as agreed which approximates most closely in actual, legal and economic terms to the purpose of the non-effective provision and of the agreement as a whole. This applies correspondingly in the event of an omission in the agreement.
- 11.6 The Parties undertake to process personal data only under the conditions specified in this Agreement, in compliance with Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data. The Licensor processes the Licensee's data electronically in compliance with applicable data protection laws. The Licensor's privacy policy can be found at <https://www.degruyterbrill.com/publishing/datenschutzerklaerung?lang=de&srsId=AfmBOoopxqQGniF36qUDvi-%20R9VUqs9IJSORxD6wmA8wmdjVCjCumFjakist>
- 11.7 Licensee will publish De Gruyter's tender, the concluded Agreement and modifications to it, except for the information that the Publisher indicated in the tender as confidential and personal information, in the Central Public Procurement Information System (CVP IS).

Appendix 2 - Terms of Open Access Publication

1. Definitions

"Eligible Authors" means authors who are affiliated with a Licensee, i.e. who are students enrolled at or accredited to Licensee or who are teaching and research staff employed by or otherwise accredited to the Licensee, whereby in case of articles published by multiple authors only the corresponding author may qualify as an Eligible Author.

"Eligible Articles" means materials eligible for open access publication within the framework of this Agreement. Eligible Articles shall be submitted by Eligible Authors.

"Open Access License" means the Creative Commons license Attribution 4.0 International (CC-By 4.0) used for the publishing of Eligible Articles. The Creative Commons CC0 license will be assigned to the data accompanying the Eligible Articles.

"Rightslink" means the system hosted by the Copyright Clearance Center which De Gruyter uses for the identification and administration of the open access publication. For the avoidance of doubt, De Gruyter always remains primarily responsible towards Licensee for any and all obligations set forth in this Agreement. Copyright Clearance Center's failure in identifying and/or administrating the open access publication will not relieve De Gruyter of its obligations.

2. Identification of Eligible Authors

2.1 De Gruyter will enable the open access publication of Eligible Articles through Rightslink. Eligible Authors shall be identified through at least one of the following parameters: their e-mail domain; persistent identifier, such as Ringgold, ORCID or other recognized identifier.

2.2 Under Rightslink, Eligible Authors shall not be offered the option to publish their Eligible Article under any license other than the Open Access License. Nothing in this Agreement shall be taken to restrict, limit or curtail any provisions of the Open Access License.

2.3 De Gruyter will strive to clearly indicate the availability of an institutional funding agreement to Eligible Authors both within the submission process and on its website. It will make clear that Eligible Authors do not need to pay article processing charges for publishing articles open access.

2.4 If De Gruyter fails to identify authors as Eligible Authors and then publishes their article under a subscription model, De Gruyter shall be responsible to convert the article promptly at no additional cost so that it is published pursuant to the Open Access License.

2.5 If De Gruyter fails to identify authors as Eligible Authors and then charges them with article processing charges for publication of their article (or charge them without discount in the case of a fully open access eJournal), De Gruyter shall refund such paid APC (or an amount corresponding to the discount in the case of a fully open access eJournal) to the author.

3. Verification of Articles

3.1 Eligible Institutions will be set up for Automated Approvals on Rightslink. This setting means all eligible funding requests placed will be automatically approved.

3.2 The date that will determine if an article is eligible to the publication terms of this Agreement will be the date on which the article has been accepted for publication by De Gruyter.

4. Article Publication

4.1 Eligible Articles are published online without delay and in the first instance under the Open Access License, with Eligible Authors retaining their copyrights. Eligible Authors only grant De Gruyter the non-exclusive right to publish Eligible Articles under the terms and conditions of the Open Access License.

4.2 Affiliation of the Eligible Authors, funders of the research and funder of the open access publication must be stated in the version of record of the articles.

4.3 Upon publication, De Gruyter will use reasonable efforts to provide the Eligible Author by email with a PDF copy of the version of record of the Eligible Article, the article's DOI, the funder name, and a human-readable summary of the Open Access License terms with encouragements to share the article in compliance to it, for example via social medias, blogs and repositories.

4.4 De Gruyter will submit the article and its metadata to relevant third-party repositories.

4.5 De Gruyter guarantees that all published Eligible Articles will be available to anyone on its website at all times, including beyond the Term, and on a twenty-four hour basis, save for routine maintenance (which shall be notified in advance wherever possible). De Gruyter will restore access as soon as possible in the event of an interruption or suspension of the service.

4.6 De Gruyter guarantees that its server has adequate capacity and bandwidth to support access to published Eligible Articles at a level comparable to that of the availability of information services of a comparable type and size via the internet.

4.7 No additional service fees (e.g. colour-in-print, reprints, posters) will be charged under this Agreement. Any additional service fees will be at the discretion of, and for payment by the Eligible Authors.

5. Publication venues

5.1 If an eJournal is withdrawn from the publication venues but still remain published or controlled by De Gruyter and/or any of its affiliates, Licensee will get continuous access to this journal during the rest of the Term.

5.2 With regard to journals directly owned by De Gruyter, the Open Access License used for open access publication shall not be changed to a license more restrictive for users rights during the Term. With regard to journals owned by societies, De Gruyter will make all reasonable efforts to ensure that the Open Access License shall not be changed to a license more restrictive for users rights during the Term.

6. Metadata and Industry Standards

6.1 When provided by the Eligible Author, De Gruyter undertakes to use ORCID (<http://orcid.org/>) throughout the workflow from submission to publication, expose Eligible Authors' ORCID ID in Eligible Articles and distribute it to Abstracting & Indexing (A&I) services, CrossRef and other discovery services.

6.2 Upon publication of an Eligible Article, De Gruyter will register as much metadata as possible on CrossRef, including, but not limited to: (1) the Eligible Article's digital object identifier (DOI), (2) the funding metadata, including funder name and grant number, in the metadata in Funder Registry (on CrossRef), (3) bibliographic citations, (4) funder of the open access publication and (5) the Open Access License.

6.3 De Gruyter is responsible for updated and clear information at the DOAJ and SHERPA/RoMEO websites.

6.4 De Gruyter will comply with the last version of NISO's Recommended Practice on Access and Licensing Indicators (<https://www.niso.org/standards-committees/access-and-license-indicators>), including, but not limited to, guidance regarding `free_to_read` and `license_reference` metadata fields and regarding mechanisms for distributing metadata.

7. Editorial Independence

7.1 The parties acknowledges that while the Licensee has financial obligations towards De Gruyter, the Licensee is in no way involved with the editorial process. Nothing herein contained shall oblige De Gruyter to publish any article submitted to De Gruyter by an Eligible Author. Licensee acknowledges that the selection of material to be published by De Gruyter is entirely at the discretion of De Gruyter's editorial policy.

8. Reporting
