

CRITERIA AND CONDITIONS FOR THE EVALUATION OF PROPOSALS

1. The contracting authority shall select the most economically advantageous tender based on the price and criteria relating to the subject-matter of the contract, in accordance with the evaluation procedure laid down in this Annex.
2. The price indicated in the tender for the object of the contract shall be considered to be abnormally low if it appears abnormally low and is in all cases considered abnormally low if it is 30 per cent or more lower than the arithmetic average of the price offered by all suppliers whose tenders have not been rejected for other reasons and whose tender does not exceed the funds allocated for the procurement as determined and recorded in the documents drawn up by the contracting authority before the start of the procurement procedure.
3. The order of proposals is made in descending order of value for money. In cases where the tenders of several suppliers will have the same value for money, the supplier whose tender was submitted earlier shall be first in the ranking of tenders.
4. Criteria for the evaluation of tenders:

NOTES:

1) The development of an information system involves the creation of a new information system or a new register or the modernization/improvement/development of an existing information system or register, where it is necessary to create new functions in an information system or register or to change the information processing processes that have been implemented. However, this does not include maintenance and support of an information system or registry, which includes only the correction of errors and the elimination of malfunctions (applicable to requirements No. 2, 3, 6).

2) The contract / project can be started to be executed earlier than 5 years ago before the deadline for submission of tenders, but the end of the contract / project execution must fall within the specified period of 5 years before the deadline for the submission of tenders, i.e. contract / project must be completed until the deadline for the submission of proposals (applicable to requirements No. 2, 4 and 8).

5. The cost-effectiveness will be calculated according to the Telgen (absolute) formula prepared by the Public Procurement Office, which was partially completed by the contracting authority on the basis of the contract documents (a calculator is attached). According to this formula, the bid with the highest score will be recognized as the winner. Offers that exceed PSetMax will be rated negatively for the price. If the price of the offer is equal to PSetMax, the bid will be awarded 0 points for the price, and offers with a price approaching PSetMin will be awarded an increasing number of positive points. Bids that are priced below PSetMin will be assigned a higher number of points than weight. The contracting authority sets the PSetMin at 0 and PSetMax equals the planned contract value in euro including VAT.

6. Proposals will be evaluated in euro. If the price or rate is indicated in a foreign currency, it will be converted into euro according to the euro and foreign exchange reference rate published by the European Central Bank, and in cases where the European Central Bank does not publish this rate, according to the euro and foreign exchange reference rate established and published by the Bank of Lithuania on the last day of the deadline for the submission of tenders.
